F. D. CLEMENT, Treas.
Barton Landing, Vt., July 1, 1901.

WASHINGTON NEWS.
President McKinley is confident that the explanation of the law under Secretary Gage acted in ordering a countervailing duty placed on Russian sugar and a duty upon Russian petroleum, which Secretary Hay has handed to the Russian ambassador, will convince Russia that this government was not actuated by any feeling of antagonism towards Russian products, and that it will result in the removal of retaliatory duties which Russia has placed upon some of our goods, and the confidence is shared by every member of our cabinet. The Russian ambassador also expresses the opinion that the matter will soon be straightened out. There is no truth in statements sent from Washington alleging disagreement in the cabinet concerning Secretary Gage's acts. There was nothing to disagree about. Secretary Gage merely carried out acts of congress, as he was bound to do.

The civil government of that portion of the Philippines where peace and order have been fully established will very appropriately be inaugurated July 4th, with Judge Taft, president of the Philippine commission, as governor, and on the same date Gen. MacArthur as military governor. Adjutant General Corbin, who left Washington several days ago en route for the Philippines, where he will make a tour of inspection of all the military posts, carried, at President McKinley's request, Governor Taft's commission.

Representative Steele, of Indiana, who was a member of the ways and means committee of the last house, and will unquestionably be a member of the same committee in the present house, said of the alleged demands for tariff revision at the coming session of congress: "There is no pressing demand throughout the country for tariff revision. Certainly there is no such demand in Indiana, where even the democrats are satisfied with the present condition of affairs. When tariff revision is necessary, which is not now apparent, it will be had along republican lines. The business people of the country do not want tariff agitation. If they want anything, it is a rest. They are doing first rate, and they do not want their prosperity jeopardized by tariff tinkering." When asked about the Indiana sentiment concerning Senator Fairbanks as a presidential candidate, Mr. Steele said: "Speaking as a friend of Senator Fairbanks, I think the talk about him in connection with the presidency, is without his consent. No one questions for a moment his fitness for the position, but to put him at the attitude of formulating a boom at his time, simply means making him a target, for the next three years, during which all the other candidates can fire at him." Of the general political outlook Mr. Steele said: "The democrats certainly cannot expect to gain ground if their policy is correctly outlined by Senator Jones, of Arkansas. He simply said that whatever the republicans do about the Philippines, the democrats will take the opposite side. I do not think the republicans have much fear from that sort of opposition."

The agitation for a new commissioner of pensions continues, but President McKinley says nothing. It is not regarded as probable that there will be any change in the pension bureau until the president can find something that would be regarded as a promotion to offer Commissioner Evans, unless the latter resigns, and that he says he has no intention of doing.

If you think of putting up a new Steel Ceiling write to M. J. Caldbeck & Son, St. Johnsbury, Vt., for their prices and blue prints of the same, as they can save you money.

New York.
The whole island of New York was originally bought of the Indians for an equivalent of about twenty-five dollars. To-day New York has a population of about 3,500,000, which is exceeded by only one other city—London. Its wealth is enormous; its annual expenditures are more than twice those of the Republic of Mexico, and almost one-third as much as those of the German Empire with its population of 52,000,000. And it has become the financial centre of the world.—Ladies' Home Journal.

LETTER TO ED. WELCH,
BARTON, VT.
Dear Sir: No man is more interested in the look and wear of the paint on the houses you build than you; not even the owner; not even the painter.

And painters sometimes are suspected of being more concerned for the look than the wear. What is your opinion? Which pays best, for a painter to have his paint last three years or as long as he can? He can have it last six, if he wants to.

Lead and oil lasts three; Devco Lead and zinc lasts six. Of course conditions affect the time of both.

Most painters know that zinc toughens the lead; some use it.

Keep This Handy.
The following rules when carefully followed, will keep you comfortable as well as making it certain that you will not be prostrated, however great the heat.

First, keep the skin in good condition by bathing regularly and often. If the skin is clean the pores are open and you will perspire freely. When you perspire freely heat will not be dangerous to you. Bathe in lukewarm water, not too hot nor too cold.

Avoid excesses—overwork, overheating and excess of every kind.

In taking cool drinks cool off before drinking, and do not drink too much at one time. Too much cold drink when one is heated is liable to produce inflammation of the bowels.

Wear light and comfortable clothing; change your underclothing frequently. Eat light and easily digested foods and do not exercise soon after eating.—Exchange.

THE SAME OLD STORY.
J. A. Kelly relates an experience similar to that which has happened in almost every neighborhood in the United States and has been told and retold by thousands of others. He says: "Last summer I had an attack of dysentery and purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which I used according to directions and with entire satisfactory results. The trouble was controlled much quicker than former attacks when I used other remedies. Mr. Kelly is a well known citizen of Henderson, N. C. For sale at H. C. Pierce's, Barton, H. S. Webster's, Barton Landing or W. E. Tripp's, East Charleston."

In Rutland and Lamoille.
The states attorney for Rutland county, George E. Lawrence, Esq., is moving for the enforcement of the laws relating to the sale of intoxicating liquors in the city of Rutland. Certain sellers have been restrained, by temporary injunctions, from pursuing their traffic, and consideration of certain cases for breach of injunction has been put over till July. During these hearings Judge Taft announced that the holding of a United States liquor license was proof sufficient to warrant the issuing of a temporary injunction. If the owners of property know, or have reason to know, that such property is used for the illegal sale of liquor, injunctions may be issued against them. It is also currently reported that the supreme court has directed all prosecuting officers to compel all persons in Vermont holding United States liquor licenses to show cause why temporary injunctions should not be issued against them for maintaining nuisances.

According to the newspapers of Lamoille county a condition of affairs is existent there which demands the faithful attention of the prosecuting officials, and which has arrested the attention of the judge of the supreme court assigned to that county.

Enforce the law, invoke its lightning, and let its bolt fall where its mandates have been aimed, whomsoever may be struck.—Montpelier Journal.

An Historical Spot.
Jamestown, Virginia, where the English gained their first foothold in the New World in 1607, was burned in 1676. To-day nobody lives there. Little remains to mark the site except a crumbling church tower, dilapidated gravestones, and remnants of the foundations of a few houses. Ladies' Home Journal.

Pan-American Points.
Every visitor to the Pan-American Exposition is more than pleased, and even surprised at the wonderful display provided by the Exposition management.

Not only are the buildings beautiful in line and color, but the stupendous electrical illuminations which at night decorate the great structures are most dazzling in effect.

From New England the lines of the Boston & Maine are the most direct to Buffalo. The service by this line is not only the quickest, but is the most complete and also the shortest.

The route through Northern Massachusetts known as the Hoosac Tunnel or Deerfield Valley route is one of the most charming and picturesque in the country, and the rate to the Pan-American city or Niagara is exceptionally low.

For tourists from Boston & Maine territory a particular advantage is the absence of a transfer across the city of Boston, for Buffalo trains depart from the North Union Station.

The General Passenger Department of the Boston & Maine Railroad, Boston, has gotten out an attractive pamphlet on the Pan American Exposition, which is sent free for the asking.

RECUPERATIVE EFFECT.
Considered with reference to its recuperative effect, there is not so much good in the ordinary vacation as there is in a single bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. The latter costs $1.00; the former—well, that depends; how much did yours cost last year?

Hood's Sarsaparilla refreshes the tired blood, sharpens the dulled appetite, restores the lost courage.

She—I like some of your articles very much. He—O, I'm so glad! Which was the part you liked specially? She—Well, I liked the quotation from Balzac.
